Tonight was a closely played contest as the scores indicate between two competitive teams. While it was disappointing to end up on the wrong end of the 3-4 loss I was very pleased with some of the fight I saw especially from 1 and 3 doubles and Tanner and Kevin at 1 and 2 singles. Tanner played very well in the first set and then mounted an impressive comeback from down 0-3, 1-4 and 2-5 in the second set. Kevin recovered well from a collapse in the first set after forging a big lead. The match of the night was at 3 doubles where the first set alone took well over an hour and the final set tie break saw each team hold several match points with the team match hanging in limbo at 3-3. We will continue to work on the physical aspect of our game while hopefully learning from the mental and strategy part of our games tonight.
